PeeWee™

PeeWee

The double tray cat litter system

PeeWee wood pellets are 100% natural and biodegradable. The pellets are made from the sawdust of carefully sourced Swedish trees. The sawdust of these trees is highly absorbent and has a natural ability to neutralise the smell of ammonia. Unlike other wood pellets, our pellets contain no leaves or bark. Indeed, nothing at all is added during the production process; no scents, glues, binding agents or other chemical nasties. The sawdust is simply compressed under very high pressure. This also prevents the pellets rotting or freezing.

For the best effect, and to benefit both your cat's well-being and your wallet, always use PeeWee wood pellets in combination with the PeeWee litter tray. Used together, the PeeWee wood pellets and litter tray are the perfect duo and represent a green revolution for cat lovers.

Nursing Kits & Bottles

PetAg Nursing Kits & Bottles contain all the supplies you need for feeding your new born puppies, kittens and other small animals. The durable plastic bottles are made to withstand repeated use and sterilization. The teats replicate the natural feeding action of a mother's teat. There are no holes in the teats so you can customize the flow of the formula.

The 60ml Kit includes one 60ml bottle, 5 rubber teats and cleaning brush.

The 120ml Kit includes one 120ml bottle, 3 rubber teats and cleaning brush.

Elongated teats are long, thin, latex nipples that also fit on a syringe.

Bottle graduations in millilitres and tablespoons.

The five teats of varying size and shape were developed for use in puppies, kittens, hamsters, ferrets, guinea pigs, raccoons, squirrels, beavers, mink, monkeys and other pets. The teat will need to have a hole made in it by using a hot needle (allow the needle to cool before removing so latex does not melt together again) or by cutting an "X" with a razor blade or scissors. The size of the opening will regulate the formula flow. Once your animal has teeth, it is advisable that you monitor the teat's condition for your animal's safety. The bottle brush may be used to keep the inside of the bottle and teat clean.

Cat Malt

When cats wash their coat by licking, hairballs can be formed in the stomach. This can cause disturbances to the digestion resulting in vomiting, obstruction or diarrhea. Also, cats that exercise insufficiently are prone to obstructions, and cat malt will be a great help in these cases. Cat Malt stimulates appetite and is therefore suitable for cats that have been sick or for some other reason have reduced appetite.

Direction for use: 2-3 cm of cat malt is given orally directly into the mouth 2-3 times daily in between meals. Keep out of reach of children.

Teething Gel for puppies

All dogs love to chew on things particularly puppies but it is more prevalent during the teething phase. For teething puppies, when their teeth are erupting, their gums are extremely sore and raw. To alleviate the pain and irritation, they tend to chew, bite and gnaw on everything they can get at. By soothing sore, irritated gums, VetIQ's Teething Gel helps reduce the amount of chewing a puppy may need to do to ease the pain during teething.
